

SSCI 293 : Cooperative Arts and Science Education

A work-study course providing opportunities to upgrade and diversify knowledge and skills learned in the behavioral and social sciences, and to apply these in job situations. (Practicum)

Credits 1-4

Prerequisites

SSCI 193V.

Course Outcomes

- Integrate the foundations of knowledge, skills, professional attitudes and values associated with a careerfield in the helping and human resource professions.
- Discuss the dynamics and multiple causes of interpersonal, family, and organizational dysfunction.
- Utilize a range of helping strategies and skills appropriate for prevention and early intervention work in a variety of settings.
- Apply the basic knowledge and practice of counseling and problem solving skills.